Introduction

Planning your spiritual journey to Makkah is a deeply meaningful experience for Muslims across the UK. Before booking flights or accommodation, many pilgrims first want to understand the Umrah visa price UK and the full cost involved in performing Umrah.

For British Muslims, the visa process has become simpler in recent years thanks to Saudi Arabia’s digital visa systems. However, the actual price can vary depending on whether you apply for an eVisa, obtain the visa through an Umrah travel agency, or choose a full package that includes flights and accommodation.

In this guide, we explain the complete cost breakdown of the Umrah visa price UK for Saudi Arabia, including visa fees, additional charges, and what British passport holders should expect before applying.

Umrah Visa for UK Travellers

For British Muslims travelling to Saudi Arabia for Umrah, there are generally two main options:

1. Saudi eVisa (Tourist Visa) – commonly used for Umrah
2. Umrah visa arranged through licensed travel agencies

Both options allow British passport holders to perform Umrah, but the cost structure and convenience differ.

Many pilgrims prefer booking through trusted UK travel providers because the visa is handled together with flights, hotels, and ground transport.

Umrah Visa Price UK for Saudi Arabia (2026 Update)

The Umrah visa price UK for Saudi Arabia depends mainly on the visa type chosen by the traveller.

Saudi Tourist eVisa Cost

For most UK citizens, the Saudi tourist eVisa is currently the most common route for performing Umrah.

Typical cost breakdown:

- Saudi eVisa fee: approximately £105–£120
- Mandatory health insurance: £25–£35
- Processing fees: £10–£20

Estimated total eVisa cost:

£130 – £170

This visa usually allows multiple entries and remains valid for up to one year.

1 Month Umrah Visa Price

Some travellers specifically ask about the 1 month Umrah visa price.

Historically, Umrah visas were issued for around 30 days and were only available through licensed travel agents.

Typical cost if arranged through an agency:

- Visa processing fee: £120 – £150
- Service charge: £20 – £50

Estimated total:
£140 – £200

However, many UK travellers now prefer the eVisa because it offers more flexibility and easier online processing.

Apply for Umrah Visa Online (Step-by-Step)

If you prefer handling the process independently, you can Apply for Umrah visa online through Saudi Arabia's official eVisa system.

Basic Steps

1. Visit the Saudi eVisa portal
2. Create an online account
3. Upload passport details
4. Submit travel information
5. Pay visa and insurance fees
6. Receive your visa electronically

Required documents typically include:

- Valid UK passport (minimum 6 months validity)
- Passport-size photograph
- Travel details
- Email address for visa delivery

Most applications are approved within 24–72 hours.

However, many pilgrims still prefer an Umrah travel agency to manage the process and avoid complications.
